Brenham Heritage Museum

Supporting Documents for EIIG

This grant would be applied toward the exhibits within the Photography Theatre Gallery that sits at the northwest corner of the main floor of the historic post office building. The details of those exhibits and the associated cost breakdown are explained on page 2 of this document.

Cost for this exhibit is $57,500. It is part of Phase 1 of our exhibit plan, the total cost of which is $330,000. Phase 1 will be unveiled in its entirety at the grand reopening of the museum which is planned for the end of September 2022, though the exact date is dependent upon construction and renovation of the building being completed on schedule.

The Brenham Heritage Museum is a vital attraction in downtown Brenham, and its renovation and rebirth have been a lengthy process. We feel the effort will be well worth the wait and will result in a much stronger Downtown Brenham. The impact on tourism and the benefits to locals, including a remarkable education resource for the region, will be numerous.

The mission of the Brenham Heritage Museum is to preserve and tell the many, diverse stories of Brenham and Washington County. We house, collect, conserve and protect thousands of artifacts and documents from the county. These are used inside of the museum exhibits, both permanent and rotating. The museum will also employ a host of cutting-edge technology to tell these stories in a compelling and engaging manner. What we present is, at its heart, the story of Texas and America told through a local lens. Locals and visitors alike learn more about us as a people and become better citizens.

Photography Theatre Exhibits - $57,500

One of the first stops most museum visitors will make after checking in at the front desk will be the Photography Theatre. It is a fitting tribute to a small group of people, the most prominent of whom was F.C. Winkelmann, who left one of the greatest historical resources Brenham could ever have. The images captured by a handful of local photographers gift us stories that mere words could never convey. This room will offer a short film that celebrates the fruits of those camera men and women, many of which still survive. There is also a special tribute to Louise Martin, a ground-breaking African American woman born in Brenham and destined to become a nationally recognized artist in the medium. There is even a display of vintage cameras and related gear set inside a post office vault door that will also feature screens that show off dozens of the wonderful Washington County photos in the museum's collection. Within that vault door display will also be a slide show of Brenham area snapshots. It is a loving recognition of the importance that photography offers to the historical record.

Nuts and bolts: The main video and images will play through an ultra-short throw projector mounted on the ceiling and utilizing a wifi router, media player and speakers. A permanent screen with cover most of the west wall of the room. Built in benches designed for ADA access will be set in place. On the north wall is the Louis Martin exhibit that includes artifacts, a touchscreen, backlit panels, other interpretive panels and acrylic vitrines. The camera vault will include more specialist lighting and backlit panels with 2 or more digital displays showing both professional and amateur photographs of Washington County over the years.

Cost will cover design, programming, electronics, hardware, lighting, cabinetry, materials, fabrication, labor, transport and installation.

Notes

1. Discuss and Consider Update to Downtown Parklet Manual Recommendation
 - a. Melinda Faubion, Margie Routt Young, Elizabeth Price, Jon Hill, Jennifer Eckermann, and Nancy Joiner met to review changes and make final recommendations to the Parklet Manual. The EV Committee made a final change of the property owner to maintain up to 90 days if the current renter should leave and this would give him time to find another renter who would want a parklet in front of their business.

2. Review and Discuss Plan for Business Mix Survey
 - a. Possibly doing this survey during HNCTs at the information booth using an iPad to do the survey. Possibly have a grand prize as of a Staycation and maybe give out giveaways for participating in the survey. Emails given will enter you into the grand prize.
 - b. We went over the questions that should be asked. They are as follows
 - i. How would you rate Downtown from 1 to 10?
 - ii. What type of stores, and attractions would bring you Downtown? List shopping, dining, or activities.
 - iii. What type of amenities do Downtown? Parklets, benches, etc.
 - iv. ADA to businesses?
 - v. Are you a Washington County resident or a visitor?
 - c. An E-newsletter will be done quarterly

3. Consider EIIG Grant Requests:

- Brenham Heritage Museum – they have filled out an application for exhibits
- Green Grain Events – application for fire suppression
- Top Floor Cars – NEW APPLICATION
- Mescalito – EXPECTED
- Glamfetti – EXPECTED

4. Board Recommendations?

- a. The Committee recommended the EIIG grants to the Board for approval
- b. The Committee recommended the Parklet Manual with changes to the Board for approval.

5. Adjourn
